MAYOR FAGAN

12 42 Will Put Few Million Now in Cold Storage on the Market.

Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 3.-A plan conceived by Mayor Mark M. Fagan, who is also a member of the county tax board, by which it is expected that a few million eggs now in cold stor-age warehouses in this city will be put on the market, will be put in op-21.30 eration today. Complaints are to be made to the tax board that the warehouses not adequately taxed. Then it is ex-pected the board will order a hearing and direct the warehouse officials to produce their books to show the stock that is on hand and has been carried and if the law is violated by storing eggs for a longer period than ten months.

Such action, it is predicted, will show that the warehouses have been taxed far too low and that a lively transference of eggs from Jersey City cold storage plants will result.

Briefs Declaring Present Statutes Unconstitutional Filed With Supreme Court.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.-Laws John G. Johnson of Philadelphia and associate counsel.

The brief was filed on behalf of the German Alliance Insurance company, which is seeking particularly to have the court declare unconstitutional the Kansas fire insurance rate law.

A similar attack will be made shortly before the court on the Kentucky fire insurance rate law. A number of other state laws, it is said, will stand or fall by decisions in these cases.

It was insisted by counsel that a Chicago, Ill., Dec. 3 .- In an effort to state has no power to fix rates charge clothes and doctor services. the right of the state to fix the price

Taking up another phase of the controversy Mr. Johnson and his asso-clates, contended that the law cannot be supported as a valid exercise of the police powers to protect the public health, life, liberty or morality. They argued that these insurance laws must fall as unconstitutional for the same reason that the court declared invalid the New York law limiting the hours of labor in bakeries. It was this case that former President Roosevelt made a national issue in the last presidential campaign.
